Culture has been the beating heart of Earls Court for over 150 years, with an illustrious heritage known around the world.

We want to create a place which sees the glorious history of performance brought to life on the site with Earls Court as a destination for culture, experiences and entertainment.

We will provide a range of venues that are diverse and inclusive, to welcome people of all ages and backgrounds.

The Train Shed
The existing train shed to the north of the site will be repurposed to accommodate cultural events, markets and exhibitions. The Train Shed is an opportunity for smaller events and culture activations.

Local cultural venues

Places to perform
We are looking at a range of spaces for live music, comedy and shows, supporting the fantastic cultural heritage of the area.

Places to create
We aim to support the next generation of talent by giving people the space to not only participate in culture but to create. We will re-purpose spaces to have meaningful studio, rehearsal space and co-working spaces, as well as offering skills and training opportunities in the creative industries on the site.

Places to exhibit and show
There is scope to include a gallery space for different forms of art, in addition to incorporating public art within the open spaces.

Places to welcome and surprise
The exterior of this site gives ample space for culture to thrive, through live events, impromptu rehearsals, busking and small performances.

Places to tie communities together
Building on the success of the Community Hub, our purpose built facility, we will pull into one new cultural centre, built bring together a range of local arts and cultural scenes, markets and events for the local community.
